

D.O. Ribera del Duero

409

The days go by, one after another, until, finally, the great day arrives! The calendar stops at 409 days, exactly the number for which our wine stays in its oak barrels, resting in the cellar of our Pagos del Rey winery in Olmedillo de Roa, at the heart of Ribera del Duero. A wine that exemplifies the best of each grape, the best of each barrel, the best of each cooper ... the result of all this is a complex, round wine with nuances of red fruit mixed with spicy and elegant smoky notes. Its persistence in the mouth will reveal a wine full of sensations.

Region

In the last 30 years, the Denominación de Origen Ribera del Duero has emerged to challenge the crown of Spain's greatest wine region; Rioja. Located in Spain's northern plateau, this region covers four Castile and León provinces – Burgos, Segovia, Soria and Valladolid. But, despite what its name may suggest, Ribera del Duero does not cover all of the villages along the River Duero. Ribera del Duero was granted its Denominación de Origen status in 1982 and today it has over 250 wineries and over 22,000 ha of vineyards. Most of Ribera del Duero's production is red wine and only a moderate amount of rosé is produced.

Tasting Notes

Bright ruby red with touches of violet. Aromas of blackberries and blueberries with subtle notes of toast and spices from the oak barrels. On the palate, plenty of soft round tannins, a well-integrated acidity and complex. A very well balanced wine and a persistent and pleasing finish.

Food Pairing

A wonderful accompaniment to roast lamb, spinach and meat croquettes, suckling pig and beef chops with pepper.

Technical Information

The grapes from old and young vines macerate separately for three days. The young grapes ferment at very low temperature to extract as much fruit and expressive floral aromas as possible; whilst the grapes from the old vines are fermented at 26-28 °C to ensure optimal expression. This ensures its characteristic colour and tannins. Finally, the wine ages for 409 days in French oak barrels before bottling.

D.O. Ribera del Duero

Altos de Tamaron Tempranillo

Altos de Tamaron Tempranillo is made from this grape variety, also known as Tinta del País, carefully cultivated in carefully selected vineyards. These vineyards are located in the vicinity of Olmedillo de Roa, in the province of Burgos, the heart of Ribera del Duero. The region's clay and sandy soils give the grapes their characteristic minerality and firm structure.

Vino de la Tierra de Castilla y León Altos de Tamaron Tempranillo VTCYL

Altos de Tamaron, made from Tempranillo grapes, completes the range under the Protected Geographical Indication of Castilla y León. These wines are popularly known as Vinos de la Tierra de Castilla y León and their production area is made up of all the municipalities of the Autonomous Community of Castilla y León. They are balanced wines due to the ripening process of the grapes, exposed to the climate of the region with a great variation of temperatures between day and night.

Region

Like France's Vins de Pays, Vino de la Tierra de Castilla y León is a Spanish geographic indicator for wines produced at the autonomous region of Castile and León, on the northern Spanish plateau.

D.O. Toro

Bajoz Tempranillo

Bajoz, named after the River Bajoz that runs near the village of Morales de Toro, uses only the best handpicked Tempranillo (Tinta de Toro) grapes for this Pagos del Rey wine. Some of the vines that provide the grapes for this wine are 40 years-old. The result is a fruity and well balanced wine.

Region

Brimming with tradition, Toro D.O. is an exciting wine region nestled in the heart of Castile and León, in the northern Spanish province of Zamora. This D.O. is next door to Rueda's territory, and not far from Ribera del Duero and Rioja's. It is one of Spain's best kept secrets. Its wines inherit a long history, dating back to Roman settlements. In the middle ages, the wines enjoyed Royal privileges that allowed them to be exclusively sold in towns and cities. Even Christopher Columbus is said to have taken the wines of Toro on his expeditions to America. Toro qualified for the Denominación de Origen status in 1987. With its ancient vines, it is certainly one of Spain's most promising regions for the production of red wines of impressive quality.

Caliza Merlot Syrah Tempranillo

“Caliza” is Spanish for limestone and this wine’s label is a faithful resemblance of the characteristic soil in this region. We have embraced the full potential of the Merlot, Syrah and our traditional Tempranillo to create this coupage that brings pleasure to the three senses – sight, smell and taste. This is a perfect wine to enjoy with a wide range of Spanish gastronomic concepts.

Region

In the former kingdom of Castilla-La Mancha in central Spain, we can find the largest vine-growing area in the world with an endless expanse of 300,000 hectares of vineyard. It is also the stomping ground of Miguel de Cervantes’s famous novel, Don Quixote. The huge area covered by this Denominación de Origen borders Valencia and Murcia to the East, and Extremadura to the West, Andalusia to the South and Madrid to the North-West. Wine making began here in Roman times and was widespread during the middle ages. The versatility of this land has allowed for the introduction of a wide variety of international varieties of grape.
